In our college, students are strongly encouraged and provided with extensive facilitation to pursue self-study courses, both through online and offline resources available within the college. This proactive approach towards self-study is designed to enhance the overall educational experience and equip future educators with a broader skill set.

The college library plays a pivotal role in enabling this self-directed learning journey. It is equipped with a vast collection of books, journals, e-books, and other academic resources relevant to the field of education. Students have access to a wide range of educational materials, including textbooks, research papers, and reference guides, making it easier for them to delve into self-study.

In addition to physical resources, the library also offers a conducive environment for focused study, with quiet reading areas, computer workstations, and high-speed internet connectivity. This ensures that students can seamlessly transition between offline and online self-study modes, depending on their preferences and the nature of the content they are exploring.
